

BIOGRAPHICAL STATEMENT

J. Barry Barker

J. Barry Barker has been Executive Director of the Transit Authority of River City (TARC) in Louisville, Kentucky since 1994 and previously worked in Akron and Cleveland, Ohio. He was named the American Public Transportation Association's General Manager of the Year in 2007. Barry holds a BS in Engineering from Case Western Reserve University and an MPA from Cleveland State University. His team-based approach to management and a customer-focused approach to service have resulted in increased ridership and service innovations that have received national recognition.